

Thimbleweed

Anemone cylindrica

Light:	Sun, partial sun
Soil:	Rocky soils
Moisture:	Medium, Medium-Dry, Dry
Benefits:	Beneficial insects, deer resistant, garden worthy
Height:	2'
Blooms:	June, July
Zones:	3-9
Color:	White
Spacing:	6"-8"
Root:	Fibrous

This well-behaved cousin of thuggish Canada anemone sports an attractive late-spring bloom of cup-shaped, greenish-white anemone flowers about $\frac{3}{4}$ inch across. They have a special daintiness that set them apart from most sun-loving natives. Fair warning: Deer seem to spare the plants, but they sometimes nip the flowers.